There’s this place where the only thing that rushes is the river.

Three rivers and seven wilderness areas meet in Missoula, Montana, a small town with big personality and unbeatable outdoor recreation. A place where you’ll find murals downtown and mountains in the distance, and “easy access” is an understatement when it comes to nature. The kind of place where we float rivers by day and sip beer flights by night—and don’t even get us started on the food scene (spoiler, it’s incredible). Put simply, Missoula is a place of experiences, and you’ll just have to experience it for yourself.

Thanks so much for considering a visit to this amazing place we get to call home—Western Montana’s Glacier Country. If you’re already here, or on your way now, welcome! We’re happy you’ve chosen to explore this special corner of Montana. While you’re with us, please remember to recreate responsibly, tread lightly, leave no trace, and be patient and kind in our small towns. We sure are delighted to have you visit our home.

Encompassing millions of acres, Glacier Country offers plenty of space to get some distance and fresh mountain air in destinations unlike anywhere else in the world. Natural wonders abound here, like winding rivers, towering peaks, sprawling landscapes and starry night skies. Explore the rushing waters of Kootenai Falls, the expansive backcountry terrain of the Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex, Flathead Lake—the largest freshwater lake in the West—the teal-colored waters of the Middle Fork of the Flathead River, and the Crown of the Continent—Glacier National Park.

Among these stunning examples of Mother Nature’s finest, you’ll find warm Montana welcomes and plenty of small-town allure, plus two Tribal Nations, authentic western experiences, guest ranches, farm-to-table restaurants, incredible cultural events and one-of-a-kind moments that exist only under our signature big blue sky.

If you’re ready to start planning your trip to Montana, we can help. Our call center’s travel counselors can give you the most up-to-date information on Glacier Country, including road status and current conditions for the Going-to-the-Sun Road in Glacier National Park and powder reports for our seven downhill ski areas. We’ve also got insider information on exploring some of the region’s best off-the-beaten-path destinations and places to spread out, renew and restore.

Getting to Western Montana is easier than you might think, with two major airports—Missoula (MSO) and Glacier Park (FCA)—serviced by Allegiant, Alaska, American, Avelo, Delta, Sun Country and United. Direct flights regularly arrive from Dallas-Fort Worth, Denver, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Minneapolis-Saint Paul, Orange County, Phoenix-Mesa, Salt Lake City, San Diego, San Francisco and Seattle-Tacoma. Seasonal direct flights arrive from Atlanta, Chicago, Hollywood Burbank, Houston, New York City, Oakland, Portland and San Diego. Airport Shuttle Express offers shuttle service from Calgary, Alberta, to multiple Montana cities and Glacier National Park.
In addition, Amtrak’s Empire Builder carries passengers across Glacier Country and Montana. Operating regularly from Seattle and Portland as well as Minneapolis and Chicago, Amtrak makes stops in Cut Bank, Browning, East Glacier Park, Essex, West Glacier, Whitefish and Libby. Once you’re on the ground, it’s pretty easy to get around on our well-maintained highways, byways and roadways—which all just happen to be very scenic. Please call ahead to ensure a rental car reservation.

For now, turn the page, explore, and let us help you plan your visit to Western Montana’s Glacier Country. If you need more travel inspiration, our travel counselors are available for live chat on glaciermt.com, or give them a call at 800.338.5072. While spending time in the great outdoors, it’s vital that we all do our part to recreate responsibly, whether playing in local parks, on tribal and public lands and trails, in Montana’s two national parks, and everywhere in between.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO
Adequate trip planning and preparation helps travelers accomplish trip goals safely and enjoyably, while simultaneously minimizing negative impacts to the land. Before you head out, know what’s open and when, know fire restrictions, know about any road closures, know the weather, know where gas stations are and where cell service is spotty, know your skill level and activity limits.

PLAN AHEAD
Once you know what your prospects are, plan ahead to stay safe and keep others safe. Adequate legwork ensures safer, more enjoyable travels—especially in the wild and unpredictable outdoors—and minimizes your impact on Montana’s resources and lands.

PLAY IT SAFE
Know your physical limitations and always travel with the appropriate provisions. Reducing your risk of injury is of the utmost importance. Our first responders, search and rescue teams and local medical personnel thank you for playing it safe.

EXPLORE MINDFULLY
When visiting local parks, trails and public spaces, be aware of your impact, be part of an inclusive outdoors, be mindful of our communities and small businesses, and be good stewards of the land.

PREVENT AQUATIC INVASIVE SPECIES
Aquatic Invasive Species (AIS) are plants, animals and pathogens that are not native to Montana and can cause harm to our environment and economy. AIS are introduced accidentally or intentionally outside of their native range. Follow Clean.Drain.Dry principles and watercraft inspection requirements.

TREAD LIGHTLY
By working together as one motorized community, we can keep our trails open, healthy and beautiful for generations to come. Do your part by keeping trails clean and trash free and educating yourself on ways to ride responsibly specific to your motorized activity.

BE WILDLIFE WISE
It’s important to act responsibly around wildlife, and it’s also vital that we help preserve and enhance wildlife habitat by practicing Leave No Trace principles. View wildlife from a safe distance. Never approach, touch or feed wildlife. Let wildlife know you’re nearby by speaking loudly or calling “hey bear” every so often as to not surprise them. When hiking in grizzly country, be sure to carry bear spray and know how to use it properly.

TRAVEL RESPECTFULLY ON TRIBAL LANDS
Always know when you are on tribal lands—this is not public land, and there are sacred places we must not disturb. Be mindful and respectful of a tribe’s unique culture, history and traditions. Make sure you “know before you go” in terms of tribal policies and you secure tribal conservation permits before recreating on tribal land.
LEAVE NO TRACE
Please respect all public lands, waterways, tribal lands and local communities by planning ahead and being prepared, traveling and camping on durable surfaces, disposing of human and pet waste properly, leaving what you find, minimizing campfire impacts, respecting wildlife and being considerate of others.

KNOW AVALANCHE SAFETY
Avalanche safety should always be top of mind when you’re headed into the deep stuff, whether via ski, snowboard, snowshoe or snowmobile. Proper gear and know-how are everything. Get educated, stay in bounds at ski resorts, and, when in doubt, go with a guide.

FOLLOW FIRE SAFETY
Western Montana is susceptible to wildland fire in the dry summer months. Before you head out, know what fire restrictions (and stages) are in place, if any, and follow them accordingly. Attend to and extinguish your campfire properly and completely. Act responsibly in areas where wildland fires are burning. Also, for those who tow boats, RVs and trailers, practice safe towing—dragging chains can throw sparks on roadways.

PLAY IT SAFE AROUND WATER
Know how to swim and wear a personal flotation device while boating, floating and paddling. Ensure your chosen activity matches your skill level. Always bring the appropriate gear. Note that Montana waters can be cold year-round. Also, drink alcohol responsibly while recreating in and on the water.

TRAVEL RESPONSIBLY WITH YOUR DOG
Be a responsible pet owner by making sure you’re not recreating on land where dogs are not permitted. Where they are allowed, please follow posted regulations. Dogs should be properly licensed and up-to-date on vaccines, and, of course, aggressive pets should be left at home. Don’t let your dog chase wildlife. Also, pick up dog waste and dispose of it properly. Dogs are not permitted on trails, in the backcountry or in any building in Glacier National Park, so please leave your dog at home or find a boarding kennel in one of the park’s surrounding towns.

Read more about recreating responsibly here:
THE BACKBONE OF THE WORLD
A place you have to see to believe.
Known as the Crown of the Continent and described by American Indians as the Backbone of the World, Glacier National Park is altogether stunning. Massive prehistoric glaciers cut through the landscape, leaving 1 million acres of awe-inspiring terrain carved into jagged mountain peaks, hanging valleys and high alpine meadows. Today, the park is home to hundreds of lakes, 734 miles of maintained trails, rolling foothills, striking rock faces, cascading waterfalls, 25 glaciers and some of the most jaw-dropping views in the world.

If it’s your first visit to the park, you’re well-advised to set out on the Going-to-the-Sun Road; just note that you’ll need to plan ahead for a vehicle reservation, as described in the box below. This 50-mile drive is both an engineering marvel and National Historic Landmark, and it’s pretty easy on the eyes. The road connects West Glacier and St. Mary—winding through some of the country’s most beautiful scenery and cresting the Continental Divide at 6,646 feet at Logan Pass. You can drive private vehicles (size restrictions apply) on park roads, but plan to soak up the sights and leave the driving to someone else by booking an interpretive red bus tour with Glacier National Park Lodges or a Blackfeet interpretive tour with Sun Tours. Both tours operate May to October and are an insightful and educational way to learn about the park, its history and its terrain. Sun Tours offers the chance to see the park from the cultural and historical perspective of the Blackfeet Tribe. The National Park Service also operates a free shuttle system from July to Labor Day.

VEHICLE RESERVATION FOR GLACIER NATIONAL PARK

Vehicle reservations are required for most areas of the park from 6 a.m. – 3 p.m., including the Going-to-the-Sun Road and the North Fork, May 26 to September 10, 2023, and Two Medicine, Many Glacier and Rising Sun, July 1 to September 10, 2023. You will need to purchase a vehicle reservation in advance for each area on recreation.gov. In addition to vehicle reservations, park passes are required for park entrance. Learn more at nps.gov/glac/planyourvisit/vehicle-reservations.htm.

The Going-to-the-Sun Road is the most visited place in Glacier National Park, but the park is also home to other exceptionally beautiful and less-explored areas. Visit the North Fork—home to Kintla and Bowman lakes—Two Medicine, Many Glacier and Goat Haunt. Visitors with service reservations in the park (lodging, camping, commercial tours) do not need a vehicle reservation for that day in that section of the park.

Exploring the park by water and trail is easy, with concessionaires, businesses and outfitters in and around the park providing a variety of travel options. Inside the park, take a guided hiking or biking trip with Glacier Guides, hop aboard one of Glacier Park Boat Company’s historic wooden boats, set out on a horseback trail ride with Swan Mountain Outfitters or embark on a multiday hiking trip with Travel Montana. Outside the park, sign up for a whitewater or scenic float trip on the Middle Fork of the Flathead River (which borders the park) with one of the rafting companies in West Glacier. Not sure where to begin? Glacier Planner can help you plan your trip to the park.

Summer sees the most visitors here, but it’s important to note that Glacier National Park is open—and breathtaking—all year long. During fall, wildlife-watching opportunities are in abundance and the autumn foliage is some of Montana’s most vibrant. Winter transforms the park into a lifesize snow globe, and fresh, pristine powder is ideal for snowshoeing, cross-country skiing and backcountry exploration. Spring is a draw for hikers and bikers, with early-season access on the Going-to-the-Sun Road before it opens to vehicular traffic. In the fall, bicyclists and hikers can also access the road vehicle-free. Though services within the park are limited during non-peak seasons, the vibrant communities just outside the park offer plenty of authentic Glacier Country lodging and amenities.

Please travel and recreate responsibly. That means planning ahead and being prepared. Monitor park dashboards and social channels for weather and gate information, parking lot availability, and closures: glaciermt.com/gtsr, nps.gov/glac/planyourvisit/conditions.htm, twitter.com/GlacierNPS. Have a backup plan in the event that the park is at capacity. glaciermt.com/outside-glacier-park.
Chances are, you’re here to see Glacier National Park, and we couldn’t be happier to show it off. It’s a pretty amazing year-round destination, and there are some incredible things to see and do beyond park boundaries as well—especially during the high season of summer or when services within the park are limited. We’ve rounded up 10 of our favorite things to do just outside the park. Remember to take your time exploring so you don’t miss any of the stunning scenery. Note that some of our roads are a bit rural and cell service can be spotty. We like it this way, and suspect you will, too.

1. Don’t miss Two Sisters Café, just outside the park near Babb on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. Enjoy locally sourced, handmade fare.

2. Tee up at Meadow Lake Golf Course in Columbia Falls, rated 4.5 stars by Golf Digest and “must play” by Golf Magazine.

3. Saddle up for a horseback-riding adventure with Swan Mountain Outfitters through breathtaking mountains, meadows and valleys.

4. Paddle Hungry Horse Reservoir in a kayak from Sky Eco Rentals.

6. Get the ultimate treetop experience at Glacier Highline Adventure Park in Coram.

7. Rent a stand-up paddleboard from Glacier Raft Company or let them guide the way.

8. Visit Columbia Falls for great food, Montana beer, locally owned shops and a weekly summer farmers market.

9. Take the train from Glacier National Park to Cut Bank. Or opt for a longer ride from Whitefish west to east through the park to Cut Bank.

10. Visit the Museum of the Plains Indian in Browning for an American Indian history lesson.

A MONTANA ROAD TRIP: GLACIER TO YELLOWSTONE

Many travelers to Montana wisely plan their trips to include both our national parks: Glacier and Yellowstone. To help make the most of your time, we’ve put together four ideal road-trip routes that all offer an unforgettable park-to-park experience, with plenty of sightseeing along the way.

Find more park-to-park inspiration here:

Glacier → Bitterroot Valley → Yellowstone

ROUTE: West Glacier to West Yellowstone, 465 miles

After exploring Glacier National Park and traversing the jaw-dropping Going-to-the-Sun Road, get off the beaten path. Begin your journey from West Glacier and stop in the storybook village of Bigfork before traveling south along the east side of Flathead Lake—dotted with fruit stands selling Flathead cherries in late summer. Then travel toward Missoula through the Flathead Indian Reservation. Highlights along the way include the Miracle of America Museum, Three Chiefs Cultural Center and views of the Mission Mountains. Stop in Missoula and grab a bite. From there, drive south along the Bitterroot River exploring the small towns along the way. Don’t miss the Daly Mansion and the Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge. Spend the night in Stevensville or Hamilton. Just west of Wisdom, explore the Big Hole National Battlefield and then make your way to Wisdom and the ghost towns of Bannack, Virginia City and Nevada City before landing in West Yellowstone.
Glacier → Seeley-Swan Valley → Yellowstone

ROUTE: West Glacier to Gardiner, 512 miles

This scenic route takes you through the pristine Seeley-Swan Valley along one of the prettiest roads in all of Montana. After a Glacier National Park adventure, make your way from West Glacier to Bigfork—an idyllic community on the northeast shore of Flathead Lake. From there you'll take the Seeley-Swan Scenic Drive between Swan Lake and Seeley Lake, stopping along the way at Holland Lake. If you're up for an adventure, the Clearwater Canoe Trail is a must. This peaceful float is exceptionally scenic and perfect for families. Next up, don't miss the chance to pull over in the tiny town of Ovando before passing through Helena, our state capital. From there, explore the hip university town of Bozeman and the vibrant community of Livingston. As you make your way south to Gardiner—the northeast entrance to Yellowstone National Park—take in the exceptional beauty of the Paradise Valley along the Yellowstone River. Have your fly rod ready, and also be sure to stop for a soak at one of two hot springs in the area.

Glacier → Missoula → Yellowstone

This route is mostly freeway, but, around here, even those are scenic. Hit the road from West Glacier and travel south along the west side of Flathead Lake. Stop in Polson at the southern tip of the lake on the Flathead Indian Reservation. Between Polson and Missoula, visit the Pablo and Ninepipe national wildlife refuges and the Ninepipes Museum of Early Montana, which boasts a walking trail and Mission Mountain views. The Allentown Restaurant is right next door. In Missoula, you'll want to do it all. Explore downtown, overflowing with artisan breweries, distilleries, culinary hot spots, galleries and eclectic local shops. Walk the Riverfront Trail along the Clark Fork River and watch the surfers at Brennan's Wave before settling in for a stay at any number of incredible lodging options. From Missoula, travel past the richest hill on earth—Butte's Berkeley Pit, named for the estimated $48 billion worth of metal extracted here—and Lewis and Clark Caverns State Park. In Ennis you'll find phenomenal fly-fishing on the Madison River. Cast a line before you land in West Yellowstone.

Glacier → Rocky Mountain Front → Yellowstone

ROUTE: St. Mary to Gardiner, 378 miles

If you want to hit Montana’s open roads and experience the wonder of the Rocky Mountain Front—aka where the plains meet the Rocky Mountains—this is the route for you. After traversing one of the most beautiful drives in the U.S., the Going-to-the-Sun Road in Glacier National Park, your journey starts in St. Mary on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. Don’t miss a visit to the Museum of the Plains Indian, in Browning, for a look at the richly varied arts of the Northern Plains Tribal peoples. From there, the Rocky Mountain Front scenery will blow you away. Stop in the tiny communities of Choteau and Augusta for a quaint glimpse of life in small-town Montana. Visit local shops and watering holes, and explore easily accessible hikes and lakes in the area. You'll pass through Montana's capital city of Helena before landing in Bozeman. There's so much to do in Bozeman it warrants an overnight. Then, follow the famed Yellowstone River to Gardiner via the awe-inspiring Paradise Valley.
The Montana Hi-Line: A Road Trip

ROUTE: Eastern Montana to East Glacier Park, 382 miles

Begin your road trip on Montana’s Hi-Line in beautiful Missouri River Country, where you’ll explore the unique land formations of the Great Plains. Attractions along the way include Fort Peck Lake and the Bowdoin National Wildlife Refuge. In Havre, visit Havre Beneath the Streets, Beaver Creek Park and the Historic Railroad District, and top off the day at a local brewery or distillery. In Shelby, don’t miss the Carousel Rest Area of Shelby and the Marias Museum of Art and History. Your next stop is Cut Bank, home to plenty of western adventures and abundant outdoor opportunities in the beautiful Rocky Mountain Front. The Cut Bank area offers a golf course and a brewery, as well as services for guided fishing trips and birding trips. Don’t miss a selfie with the Cut Bank Penguin. Moving on, learn about the culture and heritage of the Blackfeet Nation in Browning with a Cultural Heritage Workshop Hike from Iron Shield Creative, and explore the Museum of the Plains Indian, Lodgepole Gallery, Western Curios and Faught’s Blackfeet Trading Post. End your drive in East Glacier Park, the perfect place to begin a Western Montana adventure. As one of the gateways to Glacier National Park, this community is authentically down-to-earth, complete with friendly locals serving up home-cooked meals, coveted huckleberry ice cream and insider tips on area attractions.

EXPERIENCE FLATHEAD LAKE
Welcome to pristine Montana water.
When you think of Montana, the first thing that probably comes to mind is mountains. That being the case, one of our beloved destinations—Flathead Lake—tends to fly under the radar, which is surprising since it's over 27 miles long, nearly 15 miles wide and 300 feet deep. As the largest natural freshwater lake in the West, Flathead Lake provides unparalleled fishing and recreational opportunities like stand-up paddleboarding, kayaking, boating, fishing and sailing. Plus, with 185 miles of shoreline, there are plenty of places to stop, stay, play and tee up for golf—the Flathead Valley boasts several courses. There are multiple islands on the lake, the largest of which is Wild Horse Island. Created more than 17,000 years ago by heavy glacial activity, this 2,160-acre island serves as a day-use state park. Only accessible by boat, Wild Horse Island is pretty explore-worthy and is a prime wildlife-watching destination, home to wild horses, bighorn sheep, coyotes, deer and a variety of birds. The easiest way to access Flathead Lake is by way of the seven lakeside state parks.

Learn more about recreation opportunities on Flathead Lake at glaciermt.com/flathead-lake and protecting our waters at cleandraindry.mt.gov.

EAT + DRINK: Taste Flathead flavor by picking up the coveted local delicacy—Flathead cherries—at various fruit stands around the lake. For local eats and finely-crafted drinks, visit The Raven, Flathead Lake Brewing Company, Finley Point Grill, Bonfire or Woods Bay Wine. See more at glaciermt.com/eat.

STAY: A variety of lodging options can be found around the lake. Be sure to check out these properties: Red Lion Inn & Suites in Polson, Mountain Lake Lodge, Bridge Street Cottages and Flathead Lake Resort in Bigfork, Camp Kapapa in Elmo, Big Arm Resort in Big Arm and Edgewater Resort in Lakeside. glaciermt.com/stay.

PLAY: Take a boat tour with Far West or charter a sailboat with Go Sail Flathead Lake. Local outfitters, like Bagley Guide Service, offer guided fishing excursions on the lake, and Base Camp Bigfork is the place to go for kayak and stand-up paddleboard rentals. For something truly unique, try an aerial experience with Backcountry Flying Experience. Get inspired at glaciermt.com/things-to-do-in-the-water.

EXPLORE: The vibrant communities around the lake—including Big Arm, Bigfork, Dayton, Elmo, Lakeside, Polson, Rollins and Somers—offer the kind of small-town hospitality for which Montana is known, with amenities ranging from lakeside lodging to live theater and friendly taprooms. Visit glaciermt.com/communities.
To help make it easier for you to know where to begin your outdoor adventures, we’ve rounded up some of our favorite locations to hike, bike, fish and golf.

HIKE: With thousands of miles of hiking trails ranging from easy day hikes to multiday backcountry excursions, Glacier Country is a true hiker’s haven. Just south of Glacier National park is the Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex. The Bob offers more than 1,000 miles of multiuse trails shared by hikers and horseback riders. For easily accessible hikes, set your sights on the Bitterroot Valley. Contact Bitterroot Backpacking if you’re looking for a guided hike or backpacking adventure. Home to jagged peaks, high alpine lakes and some of the most stunning canyon views in Montana, the Bitterroot Mountains are an ideal location for a day hike. For hiking options close to town, check out Mount Sentinel in Missoula (with an expansive view of the Missoula Valley), Lone Pine State Park near Kalispell, the Jewel Basin near Bigfork and Big Mountain just north of Whitefish. Enlist the help of RightOnTrek for a seamless hiking experience—they build itineraries for epic front and backcountry treks matched to your pace and they also sell backpacking meals and rent gear for your adventure. Learn more at glaciermt.com/hiking.

BIKE: A prime destination for bikers, our diverse trail systems offer family-friendly routes and hardcore downhill mountain biking opportunities. Whitefish is one of our top spots. With more than 30 miles of lift-accessed and cross-country trails, Whitefish Mountain Resort’s award-winning bike park provides sweeping views of the Flathead Valley and Glacier National Park. West of town, the Whitefish Trail offers stacked loops, scenic overlooks and single-track trails, plus fat biking in the winter. Fourteen trailheads provide access to more than 43 miles of trails. Check out the Whitefish Bike Retreat for trailside lodging and camping on the Whitefish Trail. Or, near Kalispell, pedal 22 paved miles of the Great Northern Rail Trail from Somers—on Flathead Lake—to Kila. We also recommend Glacier National Park’s Going-to-the-Sun Road in the spring (before it opens to vehicles) and Apgar Bike Path, Blue Mountain Recreation Area near Missoula and the Route of the Hiawatha near St. Regis. A family-friendly ride, the 15-mile-long Route of the Hiawatha takes riders through 10 old railroad tunnels and across seven high trestles. The paved 50-mile-long Bitterroot Trail connects Missoula and Hamilton, and the quaint towns along the way. Learn more at glaciermt.com/biking.
FISH: Western Montana, in part thanks to Norman Maclean's "A River Runs Through It," is known for its incredible fishing. With blue-ribbon trout streams and legendary rivers, there's no lack of places to cast a line. You'll find trophy fish in the Bitterroot, Blackfoot and Clark Fork rivers, as well as Rock Creek. Meanwhile, in the northwest corner of the state, you're well-advised to head to the teal-colored waters of the Middle Fork of the Flathead River and the Kootenai River. If you prefer lake fishing, try Flathead Lake, Lake Koocanusa and Noxon Reservoir. Ice fishing is also popular around these parts and offers the opportunity to sit back, relax and enjoy the serenity of a Montana winter. Grab your auger and head to Horseshoe Lake for ice fishing the elusive tiger muskie. Learn more at glaciermt.com/fishing.

GOLF: Golfing in Montana comes with a rare combination of renowned courses, stunning scenery, and affordability. Our season on the green typically lasts from mid-April through mid-October. And with 29 golf courses, including the renowned Whitefish Lake Golf Course and the Wilderness Club (ranked the No. 1 golf course in Montana by Golfweek and No. 42 in the nation by Golf Digest), it's safe to say Glacier Country is one incredible place to golf. Check out the Northwest Montana Golf Association to book tee times at nine courses throughout the region. Learn more at glaciermt.com/golf.

The Railway Café offers delicious coffee drinks, breakfast and lunch sandwiches, grab-and-go items as well as draft beer and wine.
In Montana, when we really want to “get away from it all” and explore Montana’s backcountry, we head to a place we lovingly refer to as “The Bob.” The Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex is the third-largest wilderness area in the lower 48 and on the traditional lands of the Blackfeet, Salish and Kootenai tribes. These 1.5 million acres of pristine wilderness straddle the Continental Divide and offer a chance to truly escape into the deep backcountry. It’s important to find the exploration route that suits your skill level and scratches your particular adventure itch: Embark on a pack trip, a backcountry hiking trip, a drop-camp or drop-float trip, a fly-fishing trip, or a hunting trip. Get away from it all, entering an area with more than 1,000 miles of trails across jagged peaks, mountain lakes, sparkling streams and wide-open spaces, and experience nature at its finest. Our advice? Go with a guide.

Within our regional boundaries are more than 22,000 square miles, thousands of lakes and streams, diverse wilderness areas and Glacier National Park—one of the most intact ecosystems in the continental United States. Numerous species of wildlife live within this terrain, including grizzly bears, black bears, bison, moose, wolves, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, elk, mountain lions, wolverines, lynx and deer. There are also hundreds of species of birds that call our mountains and valleys home, including bald eagles, osprey, harlequin ducks, snowy owls and golden eagles.

WILDLIFE SAFETY: Wildlife is just that—wild. It’s important to act responsibly around wildlife, and it’s also vital that, while recreating in the area, we help preserve and enhance wildlife habitat by practicing Leave No Trace principles. That means staying safe and keeping others, including wildlife, safe as well.

1. View wildlife from the safety of your car or from a safe distance. Stay at least 100 yards away from bears and at least 25 yards away from other large animals.

2. Never approach, touch or feed wildlife, even when an animal does not seem to be threatened by your presence.

3. Let wildlife know you’re nearby. When hiking, be sure to bring a friend, carry bear spray, stay on designated trails and make noise at regular intervals.

GOOD TO KNOW: Dawn and dusk are the best times to see wildlife, especially during the summer months. Western Montana is wild: Keep in mind that you can see wildlife anywhere in the region. When recreating outdoors, be sure to practice proper outdoor safety to ensure your wildlife encounters are positive.
MONTANA’S BACKYARD TREASURES
Explore our state parks and national forests.

If your getaway goals include epic outdoor experiences, alpine sunshine and pure mountain air, you’ve come to the right place. Glacier National Park and the Bob Marshall Wilderness are both worthy destinations to experience our true nature, but there are plenty of other areas in Montana for authentic outdoor adventures, like national forests and state parks.

Montana boasts 55 state parks, 24 of which are in Glacier Country. Each park provides access to some of the region’s best nature-based experiences. Overnight campsites are available at Thompson Chain of Lakes, Logan, Lake Mary Ronan and Beavertail Hill state parks, and day-use recreation can be found at Lone Pine and Frenchtown Pond state parks as well as Glacier Country’s newest state park, Somers Beach, on the scenic north shore of Flathead Lake. Many of the region’s state parks also offer a look into Montana’s history. Of note: Missoula’s Council Grove State Park and Milltown State Park, Fort Owen State Park in Stevensville and Travelers’ Rest State Park in Lolo.

East of Flathead Lake, the 90-mile-long Seeley Swan Valley is home to countless lakes, rivers and forested land ideal for boating, fishing, kayaking, swimming, hiking and camping. Numerous public campgrounds, picnic areas and maintained trails can be found throughout the valley. Salmon Lake and Placid Lake state parks offer overnight camping, public boat launches, showers and RV hookups.

Additional recreation opportunities can be found at off-the-beaten-path parks, including Painted Rocks State Park near Darby, perfect for an ATV adventure. Also visit Fish Creek State Park near Alberton and Thompson Falls State Park in Thompson Falls. Fun fact: Many Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks fishing access sites offer dry camping. Dry camping sites can’t be reserved in advance, however, so make sure you have a backup plan.

For a complete overview of Montana State Parks, or to book a campsite, visit fwp.mt.gov/stateparks. You can also learn more about our wilderness areas, as well as state parks and national forests, at glaciermt.com/parks. A STORY CENTURIES IN THE MAKING

Learn more about Montana before it was Montana.
People have called the plains and mountains of what is now Montana home for millennia, with evidence of human presence in and around present-day Glacier National Park dating back more than 10,000 years.

The people who pre-dated Montana, and their ancestors here today, have defined a cultural heritage that is a rich, colorful tapestry of tradition, art, music, dance, storytelling, adventure, industry and leisure that creates a place of awe-inspiring spirit and wonder.

Today, there are seven reservations and 12 tribes in Montana: the Assiniboine (Nokado, Nakona), Blackfeet (Niitsitapi (Amskapi Piikani)), Chippewa (Ojibwe) (Anishinabe), Plains Cree (Ne-i-yah-wahk), Crow (Apsáalooke), Gros Ventres (Aninin), Kootenai (Ksanka), Little Shell Chippewa (Anishinabe and Métis), Northern Cheyenne (Tsstsáheséstahse and So'taa'eo'o), Pend d’Oreille (Qlispé), Salish (Sélîsh) and Sioux (Lakota, Dakota). Each of these Tribal Nations observes and celebrates its own distinct story and heritage.

Western Montana’s Glacier Country sits on the traditional, ancestral territory of the Amskapi Piikani, Ksanka, Sélîsh, and Qlispé people. What is now Glacier National Park, as well as the land east of the park (what is today the Blackfeet Reservation) was the original home to the Blackfeet Indian Tribe. The Salish and Kootenai Tribes traditionally inhabited the valleys east of the Continental Divide and hunted on the eastern plains.

On the Flathead and Blackfeet reservations, the tribes share their cultures against the backdrop of sacred landscapes, often through storytelling and pow wows, like the Annual Arlee Espapqeyni Celebration held by the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribe over the Fourth of July weekend and the North American Indian Days Celebration held by the Blackfeet Nation the second week of July each year. Both the Blackfeet and the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes continue to teach their native languages and honor their tribes’ traditions through organizations like the Piegan Institute in Browning and Salish language school, Nkwusm in Arlee.

To learn about the Blackfeet Nation, book a day trip with Sun Tours or Iron Shield Creative (specializing in visual storytelling and cultural workshop hikes), or pore over artifacts, exhibits and art at the Museum of the Plains Indian, Lodgepole Gallery, Western Curios and Faught’s Blackfeet Trading Post, all in Browning.

Dive deeper into the histories and heritages of the Salish, Kootenai and Pend d’Oreille tribes at the Three Chiefs Cultural Center, Museum & Gift Shop in St. Ignatius. At the Ninepipes Museum of Early Montana in Charlo, explore Montana’s heritage, as well as the stories of the land, the Salish and Kootenai people and the wildlife of the Flathead Indian Reservation.

In Moiese, in the heart of the Flathead Indian Reservation, you’ll find the Bison Range. This gorgeous, 18,500-acre wildlife conservation area is managed by the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes and is open to the public. It’s the perfect place for a day trip, complete with a rich history and breathtaking Mission Mountain views.

We encourage visitors to support tribally owned businesses, like Montana’s Duck Lake Lodge in Babb and Backpacker’s Ferry in East Glacier Park, and to look for Native American Made in Montana products.

Please be a responsible traveler while visiting Tribal Nations. Know where you stand, be respectful, and secure tribal permits. Visit recreateresponsiblymt.com for more information. Learn more about experiencing Tribal Nations in Montana at glaciermt.com/american-indian-culture and visitmt.com/indian-country.

CULTURE INSPIRED BY NATURE
The arts abound in Western Montana.

Tucked into our pristine Montana landscapes are cultural treasures that aren’t always expected in a state known more for its natural beauty. But it’s precisely this landscape that inspires the artists, writers and performers who create here. With a cultural personality that includes American Indian traditions, western lore and a splash of cosmopolitan flair, there’s plenty to discover.

The visual arts are celebrated here. The Sunti World Art Gallery in Whitefish is just one example of the caliber of galleries you’ll find in our small towns. Lively art walks liven up downtown streets, and many renowned artists call the region home. You’ll also find the work of local artists proudly displayed on the walls of businesses throughout the region.

If you’re curious about “big-city” living in Western Montana, Missoula—our region’s cultural hub—is the place. With a vibrant, historic and walkable downtown, Missoula is one of the state’s most well-rounded cities for live music (including the Missoula Symphony), art galleries and museums (including the Missoula Art Museum and Radius Gallery), a year-round First Friday art walk, multiple museums (like the Montana Natural History Center), the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation and Smokejumper visitor centers, and live performances at the Missoula Community Theatre.

The Flathead Valley is another hotbed for arts, culture and Montana history. Home to several museums (like the Hockaday Museum of Art in Kalispell, the Miracle of America Museum in Polson and the Whitefish Ski Heritage Museum), art galleries (including Stumptown Art Studio), and a Broadway-caliber performing arts scene that includes the Alpine Theatre Project, Bigfork Summer Playhouse, Glacier Symphony and Chorale, and Port Polson Players, you’ll find plenty of year-round entertainment here.

Round out your arts and culture experience by attending a community farmers market or annual event, like Trout Creek’s Huckleberry Festival, the Whitefish Winter Carnival, Polson’s Flathead Cherry Festival, McIntosh Apple Day in Hamilton, Missoula’s Symphony in the Park or Kalispell’s Arts in the Park.

Know before you go! Galleries, museums and events may be affected by lack of staffing. Also visit glaciermt.com/arts-and-culture, glaciermt.com/music-festivals and glaciermt.com/museums for information.
Montana’s mountain music scene.

Nature usually plays first chair here, but Montana hosts some of the world’s finest musicians, drawn to the Rocky Mountains, the expansive sky and the beauty around every bend. Unique, historic and state-of-the-art music venues can be found throughout the region.

Catch a symphony in the park or a lively music festival in the downtown streets of one of our vibrant small towns. Missoula boasts a phenomenal live music scene, with outdoor amphitheaters at two of the city’s largest breweries, including one that overlooks the Blackfoot River.

See a national act in concert at one of a handful of Logjam Presents venues, the University of Montana’s Adams Center or the Washington-Grizzly Stadium, which have hosted the likes of Pearl Jam, The Rolling Stones, Santana, Paul McCartney and Guns N’ Roses, so keep that in mind when you’re planning a visit as you’ll need to buy tickets in advance.

Here’s a list of some of the best music events in Montana: Whitefish Songwriter Festival, Flathead Lake Blues Festival in Polson, the Bob Marshall Music Festival in Seeley Lake, Riverfront Blues Festival in Libby and Missoula’s River City Roots Festival.

SIGNATURE SMALL-TOWN FESTIVITIES

1. HOT SPRINGS HOMESTEADER DAYS
   This wildly fun community event features live music, parades, games, tournaments, a rodeo, a car show, a fun run and on-site camping.

2. SANDERS COUNTY FAIR & PLAINS PRCA RODEO
   This annual summer event in Plains features three full nights of PRCA rodeo, a demolition derby, carnival rides, food, fun and games for the whole family.

3. ALPINE ARTISANS TOUR OF THE ARTS
   A popular, self-guided autumn tour, featuring the work of dozens of artists, studios, museums and galleries in the Seeley Swan and Blackfoot corridors.

4. CABIN FEVER DAYS & BARSTOOL SKI RACES
   A family-friendly event in Martin City, Hungry Horse and Coram with live music, food and drink, a pig roast, the world-famous barstool ski races and much more.

TASTE MONTANA
Eat, drink and market in Montana.

BISON + BEEF
To get your fix of locally-raised beef and gourmet burgers, head to the Cattle Baron Supper Club in Babb, Mercantile Steak in Kalispell or Double K Ranch Deli in Missoula, or treat yourself to the Montana Huckleberry Burger at Front Porch Dewey Burger & Fish Co. in Eureka, where you'll also find the "coldest pints in town."

LOCAL FLAVORS
In the Bitterroot Valley, find fresh and creative eats at Suzette's Organics in Hamilton and delicious local ingredients at Mission Bistro in Stevensville. At Dan d'Lion in Hungry Horse, enjoy plant-based vegan and gluten-free fare, and get cozy at Max's Market in Bigfork, where you'll find an organic market, live music, and good food and drinks.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVORS

FRESH BAKED GOODS
Savor the quintessential slice of huckleberry pie at Two Sisters Café in Babb and don't miss the exceptionally delicious fresh bread at Sour Doe Cafe & Farm Store in Stevensville. Veera Donuts in Missoula really holds its own with intensely good vegan donuts, and the cinnamon rolls at Minnie's Montana Cafe in Thompson Falls are heaven.

FINE FARE + FUN FOOD
We're all about pairing food and wine, and the Whitefish Lake Restaurant in Whitefish creates a menu that can attest to that. Josephine's Speakeasy in Coram pairs an excellent menu with Montana-distilled spirits. In Woods Bay, take your pick of fine dining or pub fare at Mountain Lake Lodge. In West Glacier, enjoy bison meatloaf at The Belton Chalet Restaurant & Tap House.

OUR BREAKFAST BEST
Fuel up flavor at Amazing Crepes in Whitefish, or head to Ekstrom's Stage Station in Clinton—a great place to stop for breakfast before fishing on Rock Creek. The chicken and waffles at Seeley Chicken Coop is a must, and Loula's Café in Whitefish not only has a scrumptious breakfast menu (including the local-favorite Lemon Stuffed French Toast), but 20 different kinds of pie.
FARMERS MARKET MAGIC: 29 OUTDOOR COMMUNITY MARKETS

Our very popular outdoor community markets are a big part of Western Montana’s allure, and a late spring through early autumn visit to Montana isn’t complete without a trip to one of these celebrated local favorites. Imagine strolling through the downtown streets of a small mountain town on a Saturday morning in the warm summer sunshine, welcomed by friendly locals, farmers and gardeners, bakers and makers. Friends and neighbors are gathered at coffee carts and food trucks, baked goods are in abundance, street musicians liven up every block and freshly picked wild huckleberries are ripe and ready.

Glacier Country’s market scene boasts a truly unique experience set against one scenic backdrop after another. From fresh produce, local meats, cheeses and honey to all manner of locally-made arts and crafts like pottery, paintings, photography, jewelry, clothing and woodcarvings, these community gatherings offer a chance to support local growers, artisans and small businesses.

Missoula alone hosts three Saturday markets (as well as one on Tuesday), including a farmers market named one of the top 10 farmers markets in the West by Sunset magazine. If you find yourself in Whitefish on a summer Tuesday evening, visit their popular and lively farmers market, or head to the Bitterroot Valley for a market in Stevensville, Florence, Hamilton or Darby.

Western Montana’s farmers markets offer an authentic glimpse of life in the Rocky Mountain West, and they provide the chance to get to know the heart and soul of Glacier Country—our lovely small towns.

Know before you go. Plan ahead to make sure farmers markets and eateries are up and running. They may also have modified hours and operating procedures due to being short-staffed. See a list of restaurants and markets throughout the region at glaciermt.com/dining or glaciermt.com/farmers-markets.
Savor the local spirit

We take our beverages seriously in Montana. Which is why you’ll find local beer, wine and spirits from 30+ breweries, plus roughly a dozen each of wineries and distilleries, and a handful of cideries. Here’s a little list, just to get you started.

10 places to drink, Montana style

1. Cabinet Mountain Brewing Co.
   Dubbed “Libby’s Living Room,” this neighborhood brewery is a Kootenai River Valley favorite. Hop on in for an award-winning Yaak Attack IPA.

2. Westslope Distillery
   For local spirits and craft cocktails in the coziest spot in the Bitterroot, this Hamilton distillery is worth the stop. Try a cocktail made with their gold award winning Sweet Sting Honey Spirit.

3. Ronan Cooperative Brewing
   Finely crafted, community-driven beer is on tap in Ronan. Brimful of local pride and delicious brews, mosey on over and grab a pint of Forbidden City German-Style Alt-Bier or craft root beer.

4. White Raven Winery
   At this Columbia Falls winery, sip on wines made from grapes grown in Montana, like the Marquette Rosé.

5. Big Mountain Ciderworks
   This true craft ciderhouse in Kalispell serves exquisite Montana flavors in a beautiful setting. Try the Montana Original.

6. Whistling Andy Distillery
   Bigfork spirits are “as pleasing to the palate as the land is to the eye.” Try the Pink Peppercorn Pear Gin.

7. Bias Brewing
   At Bias in Kalispell, rotators, seasonals and brewer’s experiments are a specialty. Don’t miss their house-brewed kombucha.

8. Sunrift Beer Company
   Toast to your adventure at this Kalispell brewery that pours a little sunshine into every pint glass. Try the Sundown Honey Brown.

9. Ten Spoon Winery
   This certified-organic vineyard and winery in Missoula’s Rattlesnake Valley is a community favorite. Enjoy the tasting room and special events like live music from local musicians. Try the award-winning Flathead Cherry Dry.

10. Backslope Brewing
    Known for craft beer, fresh mountain air and happy people, this Columbia Falls brewery pairs amazing beer with equally amazing food. Try the jet-black Foreman Stout.

Small-town business owners, artists and craftspeople, especially those with their own shops, boutiques, galleries or stores, are all part of what makes shopping on vacation so much fun. In Western Montana’s Glacier Country, the lifeblood and character of our region is built on small—oftentimes family-owned—businesses that play a large role in creating the personality of our communities, downtown corridors, shopping districts and outdoor markets.

Glacier Country has more than 75 communities brimming with opportunities to explore everything from old-fashioned general stores and candy shops, to funky boutiques, antique stores, trading posts, and artisan markets and fairs.

For shopping at flagship stores, head to Missoula’s Southgate Mall, the largest enclosed shopping center in Western Montana. This regional shopping hub is home to national chains, specialty shops, restaurants and entertainment, including a dine-in movie theater. Also check out Missoula SCHEELS, an outdoor lover’s paradise.

Think creatively when you’re food shopping in Western Montana. Our small towns boast local grocers and unique food co-ops, like Camas Organic Market in Hot Springs and the beloved Good Food Store in Missoula, complete with a bakery, espresso and smoothie bar, salad and antipasto bar, and a stir-fry made-to-order bar.

If you’re looking to browse locally-owned boutiques and art galleries, plan for a downtown stroll along Electric Avenue in Bigfork, Higgins Avenue in Missoula, Main Street in Hamilton, Main Street in Kalispell, Central Avenue in Whitefish or at Native Life Store in Browning.

You can’t leave Montana without sapphires and huckleberry treats—two of our favorite things. Visit Kehoe’s Agate Shop in Bigfork or The Huckleberry Patch in Hungry Horse, head to Philipsburg and visit The Sapphire Gallery, Montana Gems and The Sweet Palace, or visit The Sapphire Shoppe in Columbia Falls.

Make it a point to shop local and support Montana’s small businesses, artists and craftspeople. Look for the Made in Montana and Native American Made in Montana insignias on gifts and goods at events like tsiikaa’tiyikitsii’p A People’s Market at Bison Creek Ranch and First Peoples’ Market in Missoula, as well as places like The Montana House in West Glacier; St. Regis Travel Center; Great Gray Gifts in Charlo; Second Nature Gifts & Goods in Polson; the 50,000 Silver Dollar Gift Shop in Haugan; Western Curios and Faught’s Blackfeet Trading Post, both in Browning; and Riecke’s Bayside Gallery in Bigfork. Added bonus: Montana has no state sales tax.
A Western Montana spring brings epic wildlife watching, rushing waterfalls and hillsides covered in wildflowers. Our quiet season is arguably one of the best times to visit. Bonus: shoulder-season pricing, plus rental car and lodging availability.

THINGS TO DO IN THE SPRING

1. BIKING: For a tranquil park experience, cycle the Going-to-the-Sun Road before it opens to vehicles.

2. CHERRY BLOSSOMS: Don’t miss these blossoming beauties along Flathead Lake.

3. WHITEWATER RAFTING: Take advantage of the wild rapids created by spring runoff on a whitewater rafting trip.

5. SPRING EVENTS: Enjoy concerts, symphonies, rodeos, farmers markets and the International Wildlife Film Festival.

INDOOR ACTIVITIES

1. GALLERIES: Painters, sculptors, potters, photographers and other artists are drawn to Western Montana, inspired by the natural beauty. Explore the region’s numerous art galleries, in towns both big and small, exhibiting the incredible work of these fine artists and craftspeople.

2. MUSEUMS: Make a date with the past and visit our museums and historical societies containing everything from vintage and American Indian artifacts to antique motorcycles and murals. You’ll also find the Contemporary American Indian Art Collection at the Missoula Art Museum.

3. PERFORMING ARTS: Take in a symphony, ballet, or live theater performance at a community playhouse. Western Montana boasts local theater companies, dance companies, symphony orchestras and more.

4. TAPROOM TOURS: Our breweries, distilleries, wineries and cideries are open all year. Take a Montana flavor tour and sample some award-winning libations. Montana is ranked second in the nation for number of craft breweries per capita, after all.

5. HISTORIC HOMES: Visit the homes of former Copper King Marcus Daly, and the founder of Kalispell, Charles Conrad, and see how these businessmen and their families lived back in the day at the Daly Mansion in Hamilton and the Conrad Mansion Museum in Kalispell. You’ll also find other historic homes throughout the region.

6. SPAS: Add a health and wellness element to your getaway and pamper yourself with a restorative massage, body treatment, infrared sauna, float therapy, facial and more at one of our resorts, lakeside escapes, boutique day spas or wellness centers.
DISCOVER OUR MOST COLORFUL SEASON

The abundance of a Montana autumn.
There’s no doubt fall is one of the loveliest times to explore Western Montana’s Glacier Country. In addition to vibrant colors, visitation tends to quiet down a bit. The valleys and mountains say goodbye to the green shades of summer and hello to the brilliant and rich yellows and golds, as aspen, cottonwood and tamarack trees show off their perfectly coordinated hues.

TOP 5 FALL DRIVES

1. THE SEELEY SWAN: A hot spot for fall colors, the Seeley Swan Valley provides extraordinary views via the quiet corridor of U.S. Highway 83.

2. LAKE KOOCANUSA SCENIC BYWAY: What’s better than a scenic byway? A scenic byway in autumn. Take in the golden hues as you drive along the reservoir.

3. HIGHWAY 200, SANDERS COUNTY: From Ravalli to Thompson Falls, Highway 200 travels through a beautiful, quiet valley with breathtaking river views.

4. HIGHWAY 12, LOLO TO IDAHO: This heavily forested, scenic route from the Bitterroot Valley into Idaho has you immersed in stunning fall color for most of the drive. Bonus: This is the same spot where Lewis and Clark crossed into Idaho in 1805.

5. HUNGRY HORSE RESERVOIR LOOP: Just outside Glacier National Park, this shoreline loop across from the South Fork of the Flathead River offers stunning mountain views.

TOP 5 FALL ACTIVITES

1. GOLFING: Golfing against the backdrop of our fall colors is a must. Tee up at Mission Mountain Golf Club in Ronan.

2. FLY FISHING: Come fall, the rivers are quieter, but the fish are still biting, and the scenery is extra vibrant. Cast a line on the Kootenai River with Kootenai River Fishing Charters.

3. SKALKAO BEND PARK: This park in Hamilton is the perfect spot for taking a fall stroll or birding among the beauty of the Bitterroot Valley on a quiet autumn day.

4. ATV RIDES: Power up for an off-road excursion and enjoy the fall colors by ATV. Book a trip with Action Rentals in Whitefish.

5. FALL FESTIVALS: We celebrate all year long here, and fall is no exception. Plan your trip around a fall favorite, like Great Northwest Oktoberfest in Whitefish or the Scarecrow Festival in Stevensville.

DOWNHILL DISCOVERY

Conquer the ascent and revel in the descent.
There are few places where winter is embraced the way it is in Western Montana's Glacier Country, and with 300+ inches of snow, seven downhill ski areas, untouched backcountry terrain and miles of trails, it's no wonder Montana is often described as a powder-lover's playground.

Glacier Country's well-rounded, full-service downhill ski and snowboard areas range from popular resorts to undiscovered treasures. With a combined total of 11,000+ acres of skiable terrain, 385+ marked trails and affordable lift tickets, your options for hitting the slopes are endless.

World-class Whitefish Mountain Resort—ranked No. 3 in the top 20 of SKI magazine's annual reader survey—features 3,000+ acres of terrain, 113 marked trails and incredible views of the Flathead Valley and Glacier National Park, as well as on-mountain amenities like shopping, lodging and dining, and it's only 15 minutes from Whitefish.

Lookout Pass straddles the Montana/Idaho border west of Missoula. The snow falls early and in full force here, dropping around 400 inches a year. A family-friendly resort, Lookout offers a fun mix of easy, intermediate and expert runs, as well as on-site dining and two terrain parks.

In Libby, Turner Mountain offers excellent snow conditions, wide-open slopes, beautiful scenery, affordable lift tickets and no crowds. You can even rent the entire mountain and have the slopes all to yourself.

Montana Snowbowl pulls double duty as a local's favorite and extremist's dream. Featuring a 2,600-foot vertical drop, deep powder bowls and tree-lined runs, Snowbowl rounds out its offerings with a rustic, on-mountain lodge serving wood-fired pizza and famously good bloody marys.

Sitting at the very southern end of the Bitterroot Valley atop the Continental Divide on the Montana/Idaho border, Lost Trail Powder Mountain is perhaps one of the region's best-kept secrets, boasting 350 inches of annual snowfall and 69 marked trails on 1,800 acres.

Discovery Ski Area, affectionately known as Disco, is a local's hangout serving up expert thrills, beautiful views, steep terrain and uncrowded slopes with enough tree skiing, powder bowls, groomed trails and mogul runs for all skill levels.

Blacktail Mountain is an ideal family-friendly ski destination where you can carve turns in light, dry powder and take in brilliant views of Flathead Lake, Glacier National Park and the Mission Mountains.

8 WINTER ADVENTURES
Adjust your altitude in a Western Montana winter.

Your options for winter exploration are many, and regardless of how you choose to revel in our epic terrain, the adventure is immeasurable—and best topped off with a hot springs soak. We recommend using the onX app in Snow Mode for backcountry mapping. Also, make sure to keep avalanche safety in mind and know before you go when heading out into the deep stuff.

1. SNOWMOBILING: Winter in Montana provides the perfect sled scene, with snow ghosts, powder playgrounds and deep trails leading to stunning views. Sled the remote and rugged Marias Pass Trail Complex featuring 45 miles of groomed and 35 miles of ungroomed trails straddling the Continental Divide. Rent a sled or go with a guide, like Rich Ranch in Seeley Lake, Swan Mountain Outfitters in Columbia Falls or Whitefish Marine. Or, get in touch with Action Rentals for sled rentals and gear.

2. FAT BIKING: Winter biking is a trend that won't be going away anytime soon, and it's a wildly fun way to explore Western Montana. Fat bike around Missoula or Kalispell, or head to Tamaracks Resort in Seeley Lake or the Whitefish Bike Retreat Lodge and Campground, located a short drive from Whitefish. There you’ll find on-site groomed trails and easy access to The Whitefish Trail. Fat bikes are equipped with extra-fat over-the-snow tires and can be rented in Missoula, Kalispell and Whitefish. Anyone who knows how to ride a bicycle will have no problem riding a fat bike.

3. DOG SLEDDING: Get behind a team of snow-savvy canines and mush through miles of Montana terrain. We have plenty of experienced outfitters available for short guided trips as well as half-day and full-day excursions. For a more hands-on approach, mush your own team of dogs with the help of the experienced guides at Base Camp Bigfork.

4. NORDIC SKIING: Classic and skate skiing offer a peaceful adventure. Glide the park’s Going-to-the-Sun Road, the Izaak Walton Inn’s groomed trails in Essex, Seeley Creek Nordic Ski Trails, Glacier Nordic Center in Whitefish, the Bitterroot Valley’s Chief Joseph Trail System, Dog Creek Lodge Nordic Ski Center in Olney or Pattee Canyon, minutes from downtown Missoula.

5. ICE FISHING: Winter doesn’t stop us from sinking a line in the water. The fish here bite year-round, and Montana’s frozen lakes prove to be a totally fun, and sometimes rather relaxing, way to reel in the winter. Popular lakes include Flathead, Whitefish, Smith, Bitterroot, Salmon, Holland and Placid, as well as many hidden alpine gems.
6. SLEIGH RIDES: A fun activity for everyone from couples to families, there’s nothing quite as cozy or idyllic in the winter as a horse-drawn sleigh ride. Book a sleigh adventure with Bar W Guest Ranch near Whitefish or Cripple Creek Horse Ranch in Trego. Both ranches offer a sleigh ride plus dinner combination, which makes for quite a unique and memorable evening.

7. SNOWSHOEING: The simplest way to explore our winter wonderland is to put on a pair of snowshoes. Western Montana boasts an expansive trail system, and snowshoeing is a great way to explore Glacier National Park and Montana’s state parks in the winter. Take a snowshoe tour of the park with the guides at Whitefish Outfitters & Tours.

8. BACKCOUNTRY SKIING: Get off the beaten path and ski thousands of acres of backcountry terrain. Glacier National Park offers a sublime alpine tour and the Swan Valley boasts cold-smoke powder, or make your way to Jewel Basin for incredible spring skiing. Access higher elevations by guided snowcat or stay in a backcountry yurt.
MEET IN A STATE OF AWE
Gain outside perspective in Western Montana’s Glacier Country.
The beauty and amenities of Western Montana’s Glacier Country promote team building and inspire big ideas. Located among wild country and wide-open spaces are captivating towns and cities that provide a variety of distinct meeting places, from riverside lodges, rehabilitated barns and luxury guest ranches to contemporary urban sites with brand hotel convention spaces in the hearts of our downtowns in Missoula, Kalispell and Whitefish.

Our region has the perfect combination of fresh Rocky Mountain air, jaw-dropping views, mouthwatering culinary offerings, off-site activities, modern amenities and the latest in technology. Western Montana’s Glacier Country is outfitted to accommodate groups of practically any size at a variety of locations, complete with extensive activity options.

Glacier Country has destination management companies in the region to help facilitate hybrid meetings, corporate incentive trips, board retreats, conventions and special events. Our event specialists help create memorable Montana experiences for groups from 10 to 1,000+.

To help make it easier for you to plan a meeting in Montana, we’ve rounded up a selection of properties for your consideration when planning board retreats, corporate incentive trips and association meetings and conventions.

BOARD RETREATS: We recommend a western experience at the Bar W Guest Ranch in Whitefish, Quinn’s Hot Springs Resort in Paradise and Dancing Spirit Ranch in Columbia Falls.

CORPORATE INCENTIVE: Montana’s luxury guest ranches, personal service and vacation properties are becoming a favorite among planners. From all-inclusive stays at high-end resorts to authentic ranch retreats, try locations like Flathead Lake Lodge, The Ranch at Rock Creek, The Resort at Paws Up, Triple Creek Ranch, The Lodge at Whitefish Lake and RiverView Ranch.

ASSOCIATION MEETINGS AND CONVENTIONS: Montana has a surprising amount of ballroom space for meetings and conventions, especially in our three anchor cities of Kalispell (65,000 square feet), Whitefish (46,000 square feet), and Missoula (170,000 square feet)—which also boasts the University of Montana’s expansive facilities and an incredible venue for large gatherings.

OFFSITE VENUES FOR RECEPTIONS AND BANQUETS: Break out from your meeting venue and explore some of Montana’s larger restaurants, breweries and bars. Casey’s in Whitefish, FINN in Missoula, Bias Brewing and Ashley Creek Historic Venue in Kalispell are all perfect for off-site events.

Both domestic and international travelers have been longtime lovers of Montana. With wide-open spaces, authentic experiences, outdoor adventures and warm western hospitality, our group tour and FIT (Free Independent Traveler) markets are continuing to grow as visitors from around the world are looking for fresh air and space to spread out.

When planning a group tour or developing personal itineraries for international visitors, we’re here to help. Our office has ready-made itineraries for motorcycle tours, motorcoach trips, hub-and-spoke treks and self-driving trips for your FIT clients.

While our region has abundant options for groups, there are many ways to combine Western Montana with other beautiful parts of the northwest, Canada and the Great American West region of Montana, Idaho, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Consider a Glaciers to Geysers itinerary that combines two of the nation’s most stunning sites—Glacier National Park and Yellowstone National Park. Or take advantage of Montana’s close proximity to Idaho, and create an unforgettable itinerary in two of the most scenic states that incorporates places like the Blackfeet Indian Reservation, Glacier National Park and Craters of the Moon National Monument and Preserve. If you have a group tour coming into Seattle and the Pacific Northwest, consider adding a day or two in Glacier National Park.

6 WAYS TO BE A GOOD “VACATION RENTAL” NEIGHBOR IN MONTANA

1. BE RESPECTFUL: Be kind and respectful of the locals, the local way of life and the slower-paced culture. A little kindness goes a long way in our small communities.

2. DON’T BE NOISY: Keep the noise down after a reasonable hour. You may be on vacation, but those around you likely aren’t.

3. RESPECT PROPERTY BOUNDARIES: Stick to public lands and the property associated with your rental. Do not venture onto your neighbor’s property or any other private land. Recreate responsibly and leave no trace.

4. KNOW WHO TO CALL: Call the property manager or homeowner with questions and concerns; do not knock on your neighbor’s door.

5. TRASH + BEAR SAFETY: Minimize trash by bringing only what you need and keeping your food, drinks and supplies to a manageable level. Use provided bear-proof trash containers and keep trash in designated, secure areas. Unsecured trash attracts bears.

6. BE FIRE SAFE: If your rental has a fire pit, practice fire safety. Never leave fires unattended. Extinguish fires completely. Follow “no fireworks” rules. Dispose of cigarettes properly. Montana is susceptible to wildland fires in the summer—do your part to minimize the risk.

TRAVEL CORRIDORS

To help you navigate your Glacier Country getaway, we’ve divided our region into nine scenic travel routes. Each of these regions offers unique adventures and authentic Western Montana experiences. Use these pages to decide what’s most important for you to see and do while you’re in Montana—Glacier National Park, Flathead Lake, small-town allure, scenic byways, backroads adventure, backcountry exploration, winter recreation, luxury lodging, wildlife watching, history and culture, arts and music, or all of the above. You’ll find hiking, biking, fishing, boating, golfing and multiple ways to play in the snow in every single corridor. The wonderful thing about Western Montana is that traveling from one place to the next is always scenic. Visit glaciermt.com/travel-corridors for more inspiration.

Travel and recreate responsibly, and please plan ahead. Like a lot of small towns in the U.S., our local businesses are experiencing workforce shortages. Please be respectful and kind. Learn more here:
BITTERROOT VALLEY

Flanked by rolling foothills and rugged peaks, this scenic valley (home to the popular television series Yellowstone) offers Old West allure along the Bitterroot River, with numerous fishing access sites and 100+ miles of blue-ribbon trout streams. Bike the Bitterroot Trail, hike the Kootenai Creek Trail or play at Lake Como. Walk in the footsteps of Lewis and Clark at Travelers’ Rest State Park and discover “Where Montana Began” at St. Mary’s Mission. Tour the Daly Mansion—home of Copper King Marcus Daly—and find excellent birding and wildlife watching at Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge. Breweries abound here—plus cideries, coffeehouses, good food, local shopping, museums, galleries, theater and an old-fashioned candy shop in Darby.

COMMUNITIES: Lolo, Florence, Stevensville, Victor, Corvallis, Hamilton, Darby, Conner, Sula
LENGTH: 79 miles

BLACKFOOT CORRIDOR

COMMUNITIES: Bonner, Clinton, Greenough, Ovando
LENGTH: 69 miles

CLARK FORK CORRIDOR

Vibrant small towns and local personalities come together along Montana’s scenic Highway 200. Walk among giants at the Ross Creek Cedar Grove in Heron, where 1,000-year-old trees reach up to 8 feet in diameter. The paved nature trail is .9 miles, and the Ross Creek Trail is an easy 4.5-mile hike with informational signs along the way. Unwind with a soak at Quinn’s Hot Springs Resort in Paradise or Symes Hot Springs Hotel and Mineral Baths in the town of Hot Springs—the healing mineral waters are an authentic Montana treat. Also explore the dam in Thompson Falls, get your huckleberry fix or stay in an authentic Hobbit House at the Shire of Montana in Trout Creek, or visit the historic Noxon Bridge in Noxon.

COMMUNITIES: Dixon, Paradise, Plains, Thompson Falls, Trout Creek, Noxon, Heron, Hot Springs
LENGTH: 131 miles
FLATHEAD CORRIDOR

Flathead Lake anchors this wildly scenic destination just south of Glacier National Park. Countless ways to recreate include venturing to Wild Horse Island, boarding a Far West Boat Tour, sailing, kayaking, swimming and fishing. Take to the skies with hot air balloon rides, aerial tours and skydiving, or downhill ski at Blacktail Mountain. The southern end of the lake sits within the boundaries of the Flathead Indian Reservation—home to the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes. Explore American Indian history at Ninepipes Museum of Early Montana, complete with a nature walk and restaurant. The Bison Range and the Ninepipe National Wildlife Refuge are phenomenal spots for birding and wildlife watching. Total bonus: Flathead cherries.

COMMUNITIES: Evaro, Arlee, Ravalli, St. Ignatius, Moiese, Charlo, Ronan, Pablo, Polson, Big Arm, Elmo, Dayton, Proctor, Rollins, Lakeside, Somers, Bigfork

EAST GLACIER CORRIDOR

In the perfect base camp for park exploration, experience the culture and traditions of the Blackfeet Nation on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. Attend the North American Indian Days pow wow or the Heart Butte Indian Days pow wow, and explore the history of the Northern Plains Tribes at the Museum of the Plains Indian. Amtrak’s Empire Builder stops seasonally in the town of East Glacier Park, and the historic Glacier Park Lodge features stunning views and a nine-hole golf course. Fish for rainbow trout at Babb’s Duck Lake and explore the end of the famous Going-to-the-Sun Road in St. Mary. In Cut Bank, discover historically significant sites along the Lewis and Clark Trail and get an extensive look at Montana’s past at the Glacier County Historical Museum. Don’t miss the local brewery and the giant penguin statue.

COMMUNITIES: East Glacier Park, Browning, Heart Butte, Cut Bank, St. Mary, Babb

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK SURROUNDING AREA

The Crown of the Continent beckons year-round with 1 million acres of mesmerizing peaks, alpine lakes, cascading waterfalls and sweeping valleys. Multiple vibrant communities just outside the park make excellent base camps for park exploration and adventures like whitewater rafting the Middle Fork of the Flathead River. Stay in a historic property like the Izaak Walton Inn in Essex or the Belton Chalet in West Glacier. In Columbia Falls, tee up at the golf course, find a treasure at The Sapphire Shoppe, and visit the local brewery for some real Montana flavor.

COMMUNITIES: Columbia Falls, Hungry Horse, Martin City, Coram, West Glacier, Polebridge, Essex, East Glacier Park, St. Mary, Babb

LENGTH: 177 miles
I-90 CORRIDOR

This scenic Clark Fork River region offers authentic Montana experiences, from biking to skiing fresh powder to riding wild whitewater. Lookout Pass Ski Area boasts Montana’s largest snowfall at up to 400 inches annually. The St. Regis Travel Center is a must—you’ll find a trout aquarium, huckleberry milkshakes and one of Montana’s best gift shops. Discover the crown jewel of Rails to Trails biking, the Route of the Hiawatha, named a “Top 10 Pick” by USA Today. Ride 15 miles through 10 tunnels and over seven sky-high trestles. Whitewater enthusiasts can be found navigating the Alberton Gorge and hikers enjoy the Vista Trail Scenic Overlook. Visit the 50,000 Silver Dollar Bar in Haugan and peruse 10,000+ books at the used bookstore in Alberton.

COMMUNITIES: Frenchtown, Huson, Alberton, Superior, St. Regis, De Borgia, Haugan, Saltse

---

NORTHWEST CORRIDOR

Montana’s quiet corner is a treasure trove of breathtaking vistas, glistening waters, hidden gems and enchanting small towns. Kootenai Country and the Cabinet Mountains Wilderness boast pristine lakes and backcountry camping, hiking and horseback riding in some of Montana’s wildest country. The Lake Koocanusa Scenic Byway is a must, including the Libby Dam and Visitor Center, and don’t miss Kootenai Falls and the famous Kootenai Falls Swinging Bridge. Eureka’s Tobacco Valley Historical Village offers a walk back in time through a collection of restored buildings, and the No. 1 rated golf course in Montana is right here in Eureka at The Wilderness Club. Also noteworthy, Libby’s Heritage Museum and Cabinet Mountain Brewing Co.

SEELEY SWAN CORRIDOR

Flanked by the Mission and Swan mountain ranges, the lushly forested landscape dotted with lakes offers phenomenal snowmobiling, Nordic skiing, ice-fishing, golf and hundreds of miles of trails to hike, bike and snowshoe. Set out on the Seeley Swan Scenic Drive between the Bob Marshall Wilderness and Mission Mountains, or explore the storybook village of Bigfork—home to an annual whitewater festival, a golf course, local shopping, art galleries and the Bigfork Summer Playhouse. Base Camp Bigfork and Swan Mountain Outfitters are ready to help you recreate in the area. Wind your way around the Clearwater Canoe Trail or hike to Holland Lake Falls for jaw-dropping views.

COMMUNITIES: Bigfork, Ferndale, Swan Lake, Condon, Seeley Lake

LENGTH: 74 miles
Small Towns Lead to Big Adventures

COME PLAY IN MONTANA’S BITTERROOT VALLEY

Here in the Bitterroot Valley we’re big on adventure. With eight towns, two mountain ranges and a lush river valley, there are plenty of ways to enjoy this picture-perfect destination. While the jagged peaks of the Bitterroot Mountains are filled with endless trails, high alpine lakes and outdoor experiences, history lovers will feel right at home exploring the valley’s historic sites, museums and three national historic trails.

Lake Como and the blue-ribbon trout waters of the Bitterroot River provide year-round activities like fly-fishing and boating, as well as snowshoeing along the water’s edge. Hikers will find easily accessible trails at the Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge, Blodgett Canyon and Kootenai Creek, while skiers can cruise runs at Lost Trail Ski Area or take a snowmobile or ATV trip through the Sapphire Mountains. Top it all off with a hot springs soak.

Explore quaint downtowns in each of the Bitterroot Valley’s communities, where you’ll discover charming stores, art galleries and studios, coffee shops, breweries and restaurants, plus an array of accommodations. Attend popular events like the Annual Bitterroot Brewfest in July, Ravalli County Fair or Bitterroot Celtic Games & Gathering (both in August). For more information on events, visit bitterroot365.com.

Lake Como and the blue-ribbon trout waters of the Bitterroot River provide year-round activities like fly-fishing and boating, as well as snowshoeing along the water’s edge. Hikers will find easily accessible trails at the Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge, Blodgett Canyon and Kootenai Creek, while skiers can cruise runs at Lost Trail Ski Area or take a snowmobile or ATV trip through the Sapphire Mountains. Top it all off with a hot springs soak.

Explore quaint downtowns in each of the Bitterroot Valley’s communities, where you’ll discover charming stores, art galleries and studios, coffee shops, breweries and restaurants, plus an array of accommodations. Attend popular events like the Annual Bitterroot Brewfest in July, Ravalli County Fair or Bitterroot Celtic Games & Gathering (both in August). For more information on events, visit bitterroot365.com.

TRAVELERS’ REST STATE PARK
Montana’s Historic Connection

Travelers’ Rest marks the intersection between cultural and natural history. Along the banks of Lolo Creek, visitors explore the landscape used for centuries by Native peoples, visited twice by the Lewis and Clark Corps of Discovery and home to a wondrous diversity of plants and animals.
Western Montana encompasses 22,000 square miles, and a vibrant patchwork of 75+ small towns creates the heart and soul of the region. Among towering peaks and sweeping valleys, you'll find communities so captivating and western hospitality so inviting you may never want to leave.

From the little but lovely town of Cut Bank sitting against the backdrop of the Rocky Mountain Front to Montana's cultural hot spot, Missoula, all our communities offer a world of discovery, and each one is unique.

Find bustling downtowns, renowned farmers markets, 30+ craft breweries, cideries, distilleries, local gem shops, art galleries, annual festivals, world-class recreation, a university and, most importantly, the friendliest people in the West. Every community offers something different and something for everyone, every season of the year.

Stay and play in ski towns (like Whitefish), lake towns (like Bigfork), and towns that blend skiing and lake life seamlessly (like Lakeside). Float down the Clark Fork River right into eclectic downtown Missoula or explore American Indian culture firsthand in our communities that reside within one of the two American Indian reservations in Western Montana. Discover small-town treasures in the Bitterroot Valley and along scenic byways like Montana's Clark Fork Corridor, or spend your snow-season getaway in the winter destination town of Seeley Lake.
Find your Glacier National Park base-camp community just outside the park, where towns like Kalispell and Columbia Falls offer easy access to the Crown of the Continent and year-round lodging and accommodations when you visit the park during quieter seasons, which are lovely times of year to do just that.

The best thing about the communities in Western Montana is that they’re all surrounded by our gorgeous great outdoors. After you’re done exploring what each town has to offer, take to the hills and the rivers for epic adventures among some of the most beautiful and pristine landscapes in the world.

TOP DESTINATIONS

The beloved communities in Montana’s scenic northwest corner are surrounded by nature’s wild wonders, epic landscapes, two American Indian reservations and world-class attractions. Discover the Crown of the Continent, pristine backcountry wilderness, blue-ribbon trout streams, wildlife refuges, ghost towns and historical sites. Unforgettable adventures abound in Glacier Country. Here are some of our top spots to add to your travel itinerary.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK: Explore 1 million acres of breathtaking landscapes and unrivaled adventures, plus thriving base-camp communities just outside the park.

FLATHEAD LAKE: Stay and play on the sparkling waters of the largest freshwater lake west of the Mississippi.

BOB MARSHALL WILDERNESS: 1.5 million acres of rugged and pristine backcountry terrain with 1,000 miles of trails to explore.

BLACKFEET NATION: Visit the Museum of the Plains Indian in Browning and get to know the history and culture of the tribal people of the Northern Plains.

FLATHEAD INDIAN RESERVATION: Explore the Three Chiefs Cultural Center, Museum & Gift Shop in St. Ignatius to learn more about the tribes.

CABINET MOUNTAINS WILDERNESS: Snowcapped peaks, cascading waterfalls, 35 hiking trails and 85 high-country glacial lakes.

GARNET GHOST TOWN: Explore a unique chapter in gold-mining history at Montana’s most well-preserved ghost town.

KOOTENAI NATIONAL FOREST: Travel the Lake Koocanusa Scenic Byway and explore the lake itself as well as the Kootenai River. Also explore Libby Dam and the Ten Lakes Scenic Area, and witness giant cedar trees at the Ross Creek Cedar Grove.

LEE METCALF NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE: A 2,800 acre sanctuary along the Bitterroot River with 235 species of birds, wildlife, two nature trails and an accessible path.

ROUTE OF THE HIAWATHA: Bike or hike 15 miles of Rails to Trails adventure featuring 10 train tunnels and seven towering trestles.

SEELEY LAKE: Along one of our state’s most scenic drives, this outdoor lover’s haven offers fishing, camping and boating and is a popular winter destination.

BISON RANGE: Home to 350 head of bison as well as bears, elk, deer, bighorn sheep and more.

ALBERTON GORGE: Raft epic whitewater between the rose-colored cliffs of this Clark Fork River gorge.

BITTERROOT VALLEY: Explore Kootenai Canyon, Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge, Lake Como and the Bitterroot Trail.

ARLEE

Named after the Salish chief “Alee” and sitting in the shadow of the Mission Mountains, Arlee serves as a trading center for residents of the Jocko Valley and Flathead Indian Reservation. Arlee is home to local shops and galleries, and area highlights include the Garden of One Thousand Buddhas.

BIG ARM

Located on the “big arm” of Flathead Lake, the aptly named community of Big Arm provides incredible lake views and close proximity to Wild Horse Island. Big Arm State Park offers camping, hiking, biking, wildlife watching and a long pebble beach that’s popular with swimmers and sun soakers. Lake life on the Big Arm Bay means sailing, scuba diving, water-skiing and lake-trout fishing are all right outside your door.

COMMUNITIES

DAYTON

From its location on the shores of Flathead Lake, Dayton is an ideal launching point for travel to Wild Horse Island—a primitive state park on Flathead Lake. Dayton Bay is known for its consistent winds, making it a great place to sail, and also offers visitors access to sailboat rentals and sailing lessons. Montana’s first bonded winery is located near Dayton and produces wines that include grapes grown at their on-site vineyard.

DIXON

A division point along the Northern Pacific Railroad, Dixon sits quietly along the Flathead River. Watch wildlife at the nearby 18,500-acre Bison Range, home to bison, black bear, elk, deer and more than 200 species of birds. Dixon is also home to one of the Treasure State’s many treasures—Dixon melons. If you haven’t tasted one, you haven’t tasted Montana.
ELMO

This small community is located along the western shore of Flathead Lake in the beautiful Flathead Valley. Located in fertile farmlands, the region is known for its popular—and delicious—Flathead cherries.

EUREKA

The quaint little town of Eureka sits in the lush Tobacco Valley. With a charming main street and small-town hospitality, Eureka keeps the past alive in the Tobacco Valley Historical Village—a collection of restored buildings. Eureka offers a brewery, world-class golf courses and easy access to Lake Koocanusa and the Ten Lakes Scenic Area, with miles of hiking trails, fishing streams and campsites. It’s also just minutes from the U.S./Canada border crossing at the 24-hour Port of Roosville.

FERNDALE

Just five minutes east of Bigfork, Ferndale’s Flathead Valley setting offers incredible views of both the Mission Mountains and Swan Mountain Range. Water play abounds here with Flathead Lake and the Swan River nearby, and hikers find endless exploration in the Jewel Basin and Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex.

FLORENCE

Between the Sapphire and Bitterroot mountains, the friendly community of Florence offers easy access to Threemile Wildlife Management Area for excellent hunting and wildlife-watching opportunities. In addition, the area provides winter range for elk as well as summer recreation activities.

FORTINE

Once a station on the Great Northern Railway, Fortine offers access to the Kootenai National Forest and Ten Lakes Scenic Area with around 90 miles of off-the-beaten-track trails and rugged terrain perfect for hiking and biking. Hardcore anglers and backpackers have been known to revel in the pristine forest’s hidden alpine lakes, and golfers enjoy family-friendly greens at the local course.

FRENCHTOWN
About 15 minutes northwest of Missoula, the community of Frenchtown was founded by French Canadian settlers. Situated along the Clark Fork River in a valley called qua elth (meaning state of tranquility) by American Indian inhabitants, is Frenchtown Pond State Park—a 5-acre park that makes a great place for beginners to practice kayaking and canoeing. Frenchtown also offers a relaxing game of golf paired with great scenery and Montana’s famous western hospitality—you’ll even find a large golf simulator screen here.

SPECIAL INTEREST TOURS, RECREATION AND ADVENTURES

1. CLEARWATER CANOE TRAIL: Rent a kayak, canoe or paddleboard and head to the Seeley Swan Corridor to paddle this calm stretch of meandering river that empties into Seeley Lake. It’s closed to motorized boats, creating a serene float through a dense willow marsh. See otters, turtles and great blue herons.

2. STARGAZING: Jaw-dropping starry nights are part of Montana’s allure. Glacier National Park is an official Dark Sky Park and you’ll find observatories and excellent stargazing locations around the region. It’s not hard to spot the Milky Way here, and occasionally the northern lights.

3. GARNET GHOST TOWN: Take a step back in time and get a glimpse of what life was like in the boom-and-bust mining days. Explore the well-preserved and fascinating remnants of a once-thriving, now-abandoned mining town named one of America’s Coolest Ghost Towns by Travel + Leisure magazine.

4. LLAMA TREKKING: Take a pack trip with a llama! This is a wildly fun way to explore the outdoors. Let a llama carry your gear for you while you enjoy the hike and focus on the scenery around you. It’s fun for the whole family to spend time with these friendly and fascinating creatures.

5. ROUTE OF THE HIAWATHA: Named a “Top 10 Pick” by USA Today, this 15-mile-long, family-friendly mountain bike trail follows along the crest of the Bitterroot Mountains and features 10 train tunnels and seven sky-high trestles. Don’t miss the chance to bike this Rails to Trails crown jewel.

6. LAVENDER FARMS: Take in the sights and scents at a lavender farm like Purple Mountain Lavender in Lakeside and Big Sky Lavender Farms in Florence, both nestled among beautiful settings and offering house-made lavender products. Take a tour or a workshop!

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK SURROUNDING AREA

The Glacier National Park area encompasses the vibrant communities of Babb, Columbia Falls, Coram, East Glacier Park, Essex, Hungry Horse, Martin City, Polebridge, St. Mary and West Glacier.

BABB

Minutes from the eastern edge of Glacier National Park at the junction of U.S. Route 89 and Many Glacier Road, Babb is one of the region’s smallest towns. You’ll find some of the best huckleberry pie in the state in Babb, plus excellent fishing on nearby Duck Lake. (Please note, a tribal fishing permit is required for fishing Duck Lake.)

columbiafallschamber.org, glaciermt.com/columbia-falls

CORAM

South of West Glacier, the small town of Coram is minutes from Glacier National Park along U.S. Highway 2. With family-fun attractions, a distillery and an array of lodging options—including canvas tents and mountain-inspired cabins and lodges—Coram is quickly becoming a place where visitors stop and stay while exploring the Crown of the Continent region.

EAST GLACIER PARK

East Glacier Park is the perfect place to begin a Western Montana adventure. As one of the gateways to Glacier National Park, this community is authentically down-to-earth, complete with friendly locals serving up home-cooked meals, coveted huckleberry ice cream and insider tips on area attractions. East Glacier Park and the surrounding area have cultural and historical significance to the Blackfeet Tribe. All nine holes of the local golf course are named after former chiefs of the Blackfeet Nation.

ESSEX

Though it may be small, Essex is a noteworthy Montana destination. A stone’s throw from Glacier National Park, Essex is just off U.S. Highway 2 along the southern border of the park. Open year-round, the historic Izaak Walton Inn sits trackside and combines railroad history with outdoor recreation on nearby hiking trails and an extensive system of cross-country ski trails. A short drive from Essex, the Walton Goat Lick Overlook is a popular viewing spot for mountain goats.

Surrounded by some of Western Montana’s most spectacular mountains and only a few minutes from Glacier National Park, this small community sits on the edge of Hungry Horse Reservoir and Hungry Horse Dam. You can take guided tours of the dam and learn about its history and present-day function. The 34-mile-long Hungry Horse Reservoir is perfect for kayaking and stand-up paddleboarding. The town is home to local shops, lodging and plenty of huckleberry treats.

During the heyday of the Hungry Horse Dam project, Martin City was a boomtown, home to dam workers and some of the heartiest and rowdiest residents in the region. Just a few minutes’ drive from Glacier National Park and the nearby Flathead National Forest, the region is ideal for remote, quiet camping with numerous trails into nearby wilderness areas. Time it right and experience one of Martin City’s best traditions, the weekend-long Cabin Fever Days and Barstool Ski Races—a family friendly and roaring-good-time community event held annually in February.

Less than a mile from the northwest entrance of Glacier National Park, the famous and tiny community of Polebridge is a must stop. The town consists of a handful of houses, cabins, a hostel and small ranches along the North Fork Road, with a much-loved mercantile as its hub. This one-stop shop for locals and visitors is known for its fresh baked goods, sandwiches and authentic personality.

At the east entrance to Glacier National Park and the Going-to-the-Sun Road, St. Mary is a prime home base for exploring the east side of the park as well as the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. While most of its offerings are seasonal, St. Mary has lodging accommodations, a grocery store, gas station, restaurants and campground. During the winter months, visitors can access the Going-to-the-Sun Road for cross-country skiing from the St. Mary entrance.

Adventures in and around Glacier National Park often begin and end in West Glacier. As the western gateway to the park, West Glacier has been dubbed “guide central.” Local guides offer hiking and fly-fishing trips, whitewater and scenic rafting excursions, backcountry camping and trail rides. This bustling community has Montana-minded shops, great local dining and numerous accommodations, as well as a golf course with great views and affordable rates. Quieter during winter, West Glacier does offer lodging during the park’s slower season.

Before you head out, check park openings and closings, road status and safety information at glaciermt.com/travel-updates, and make sure that between May 26 and September 10, 2023, you have secured your vehicle reservation.

LAKESIDE

Hugging the western shore of Flathead Lake's northern end, Lakeside provides easy access to the water, making it a popular destination for summer visitors. Cruise the lake on a guided boat tour, stroll through locally owned shops or take in the views of the Swan Mountains. During the winter months, carve lines at the local ski area, offering panoramic vistas of Flathead Lake and Glacier National Park.

MARION

Located just off U.S. Highway 2 near Little Bitterroot Lake, Marion was initially used by railroad workers building the railroad line into Kalispell. Nearby Lost Trail National Wildlife Refuge provides a diverse habitat for various bird species, as well as deer, elk, moose, black bear, lynx and wolverines.

MISSOULA

Halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks is Montana’s cultural hub and second-largest city, Missoula. With nine historic districts, funky boutiques, live theater, a symphony, diverse dining options, a thriving music scene, ample lodging options, plus access to nearby wilderness areas, unrivaled outdoor playgrounds and seven golf courses, Missoula perfectly combines big-city amenities with outdoor recreation and Montana’s natural wonders. This eclectic mountain town is also home to the state’s oldest college—the University of Montana.

BUYING RECREATIONAL MARIJUANA IN MONTANA: Adults age 21 or older can purchase marijuana and marijuana products in Montana, including Montana residents, residents of other U.S. states and territories and international travelers. Valid identification is required for purchase, such as a driver’s license or passport.

PURCHASING MARIJUANA FROM A DISPENSARY: Dispensaries sell marijuana flower, edibles, tinctures, vaporizer cartridges, concentrates, topical, smoking accessories, and CBD products. Talk to the experienced “budtenders” to find out which products/strains are the safest and best for you. It is only legal to purchase marijuana from an approved dispensary, not from another individual.

DRIVING IN MONTANA WITH MARIJUANA IN YOUR VEHICLE: You may drive with marijuana in your vehicle. It must be in its unopened, original packaging and stored outside of the car’s passenger area. It is ILLEGAL to drive under the influence of marijuana in Montana.

WHERE YOU MAY CONSUME/POSSESS MARIJUANA IN MONTANA: You may consume marijuana in private accommodations and private residences/property with the owner’s permission.

You may NOT consume marijuana in outdoor public spaces or enclosed public spaces.

Possessing and consuming marijuana on Indian Reservations in Montana is complicated; check Tribal Nation websites.

You may NOT possess or consume marijuana in Glacier National Park.

CROSSING STATE LINES: It is illegal to cross state lines with marijuana in your possession. It is also illegal to fly with marijuana.

Learn more about consuming cannabis responsibly in Montana, including legal purchase and possession amounts, at glaciermt.com/recreational-marijuana.

Montana was made for road-tripping, but taking your electric car on a long-distance trip (especially in a place where things can get a little remote), may seem daunting. We’ve got you covered, however.

Plugshare helps you find electric car charging stations throughout Montana where you can plug in and recharge your vehicle to continue on the journey of unplugging and recharging yourself.

With just a little extra planning you’ll be on the road to an unforgettable, and more sustainable, adventure.

MOIESE  glaciermt.com/moiese

Explore the 18,500-acre Bison Range in Moiese. Drive the grounds for an up-close look at 350 head of bison, plus elk, deer and antelope. This popular spot for wildlife watching and birding is owned and managed by the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes.

NOXON  tour200.com, glaciermt.com/noxon

Sitting on U.S. Highway 200 along the Clark Fork River, Noxon is known for huckleberries and a rich history in railroads, trapping, mining and logging. Located near Cabinet Gorge and Noxon reservoirs, the Noxon area is ideal for boating and fishing. Additional nearby recreational activities include hiking, biking, snowshoeing and strolling through the Ross Creek Cedar Grove.

OLNEY  glaciermt.com/olney

Between Whitefish and Eureka, Olney sits in the heart of the Kootenai National Forest. The surrounding wilderness includes numerous ranger stations, cabins and lookouts maintained by the U.S. Forest Service. Many of the cabins and lookouts are available for overnight rental and provide a rustic wilderness experience complete with authentic Montana views. Go boating, canoeing and fishing on Olney’s nearby lakes—Upper Stillwater and Whitefish Lake.

PABLO

Carrying a hearty legacy, Pablo was named for Tribal member Michel Pablo—a rancher and stockman who played a role in saving the bison of Montana from extinction. Pablo is tribal headquarters for the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes and home to Salish Kootenai College, featuring a nine-hole golf course. Also noteworthy, the Pablo National Wildlife Refuge is a great spot for birding and wildlife watching.

PROCTOR

Founded in 1910 and named for the town’s first postmaster, Clarence Proctor, this community is nestled between the Salish and Mission mountains and located a short drive west of Flathead Lake. Nearby water recreation, relaxation and stellar fishing can be found at Lake Mary Ronan. Additional recreation opportunities are available in the Flathead National Forest.

RAVALLI

Sitting at the junction between Missoula, Thompson Falls and St. Ignatius, Ravalli greets travelers navigating their way through Western Montana. Ravalli is close to several notable area attractions, including the Bison Range—one of the oldest wildlife refuges in the nation—as well as the St. Ignatius Mission.

REXFORD

Situated in the lovely, forested corner of northwest Montana—between the Purcell and Salish mountains on the northern banks of Lake Koocanusa—the mountain community of Rexford is a recreation lover’s paradise. Rexford is ideal for camping, hiking, hunting, snowmobiling, boating and rock climbing (at nearby Stone Hill). In addition, Rexford is a great starting point for driving the 67-mile Lake Koocanusa Scenic Byway.

Invasive tree-killing insects and diseases that hitchhike on firewood can threaten Montana’s forests. Leave firewood at home—buy local firewood at or near your destination or collect firewood on-site when permitted.

Communities

Yaak

Deep in the northwest corner of Montana, Yaak is surrounded by incredible outdoor recreation opportunities like fishing, hunting, hiking, camping and biking. Nearby not-to-be-missed attractions include the Yaak River and Yaak Falls—a beautiful cascading waterfall with jagged exposed rocks (some of the oldest rocks in the world).
While we tend to tout Glacier Country as perhaps the loveliest part of Montana (we admit it, we’re partial), there are many other areas under this big blue sky that are just as lovely, just as serene and just as authentically beautiful as our corner of paradise. The whole of Big Sky Country offers endless jaw-dropping vistas and outdoor adventures, small towns worthy of a stop and a stay, off-the-beaten-path surprises and genuine western treasures.

Our great state is full of small businesses, thriving communities and friendly folks ready to show you Montana’s true nature. We love it here, and we’re pretty certain you will, too. Here’s a list of places that can help you get on the road to your most unforgettable vacation experience yet: Montana, USA.

FIND YOUR MONTANA MOMENT
8 perfect views in Western Montana.

1. LIBBY DAM: This powerful dam that holds back the Lake Koocanusa Reservoir is a site to behold, and views of the dam can be seen from the Lake Koocanusa Scenic Byway. The nearby Souse Gulch day-use area offers playgrounds, picnic shelters and boat ramp access to the lake, as well a stunning view of the lake.

2. HOLLAND FALLS: While Holland Falls is viewable from the shore of Holland Lake, set out on the 1.6-mile-long hike in the Holland Falls National Recreation Area. This easy hike puts you up close with the waterfall and provides expansive views of the lake and the Mission Mountains.

3. ROSS CREEK CEDARS: About 29 miles south of Troy off state Highway 56 on Bull Lake and Ross Creek Cedars Road 398, find 100 acres of 1,000-year-old western red cedar trees, some of which are more than 8 feet in diameter. An interpretive walking trail, just under a mile long, explains the area’s ecology and history, and intermittently follows along the scenic Ross Creek.

4. BLODGETT CANYON: This local-favorite hiking spot just outside Hamilton is one of the Bitterroot’s best. It’s also popular with rock climbers. Follow the tranquil Blodgett Creek 3.5 miles deep into the canyon along breathtaking cliffs and spires, with beautiful foliage and a stunning waterfall.

5. MISSION MOUNTAINS: Travel north on U.S. Highway 93 from Missoula through the small town of Ravalli. As you climb Ravalli Hill, be sure to keep an eye on the rolling hills to the left, as they are part of the Bison Range and home to 350 head of bison. Upon cresting Ravalli Hill, focus your eyes straight ahead for a jaw-dropping view of the Mission Mountains.

6. THE “M”: This is a Missoula must, and—though slightly steep—the Missoula Valley view is well worth it. This local gem is a .75-mile switchback trail that ends at the giant letter M on Mount Sentinel above the University of Montana.

7. CUT BANK TRAIL: Explore Cut Bank Creek Coulee on this vibrant little city’s unpaved 2-mile Coulee Trail. Take in beautiful views of the gorge to the south and the majestic Rocky Mountains to the west, and don’t miss the giant penguin while you’re in town.

8. ST. REGIS-PARADISE SCENIC BYWAY: From St. Regis, take one of the most scenic drives in Western Montana. This easy, curving road travels along the Clark Fork River and through the Lolo National Forest before connecting with Highway 200 near the small town of Paradise. Be sure to take advantage of the pullouts along the road for uninterrupted views of this region’s forested landscape.
Yellowstone is more than a park. In Montana, it’s a whole country.

The sublime nature of America’s first national park doesn’t stop at park boundaries. It spills north into Montana’s Yellowstone Country, where adventure is wide open. Experience exquisite landscapes, world-class outdoor recreation and captivating mountain towns.
